P R E F A C E

Since I am a fairly new convert to affairs historical, but having chosen beautiful Williamsburg as the ideal place for retirement, it wasn't long before I began delving into all manner of past history.

I had heard about the Great Fire during the evacuation of Richmond, but was not aware that all Williamsburg and James City County records had been sent to Richmond for safe keeping and had perished in the fire of 1865. Therefore, I was told that no record of wills existed for the area earlier than 1865.

A search of all libraries provided me with will books of many other Virginia counties, but only one small book which listed nine Williamsburg and nineteen James City County in existence. This was a challenge to dig ! I have unearthed information on over one thousand wills in Williamsburg, James City County and York County which have not been listed before.

Where there seems to be a discrepancy in a name, it is due to copying it exactly as it appears in the original record. Also, the reason some dates read 1665 /66, is the Gregorian Calendar did not come into existence until 1752. Prior to that time, March 21 was considered the beginning of the new year so that dates of January, February and March, prior to this are listed with the slash date.

Without the gracious help and guidance of Dr. Edward M. Riley, Director of Research, Colonial Williamsburg (just retired), and Harold Gill, Research Associate and Blain Franklin and Lou Powers, this work could not have gone forward. Mr. John Dudley, also recently retired from Virginia State Library, Richmond, started me on my search, and all the staff in the Reference Room of William and Mary who are most likely unaware of having done anything other than their "job" were of tremendous assistance. A special "thank you" to Shirley Low who listened, advised and proof-read these pages.

All told, it has been a labor of love, and while there is still more to come, I trust this will be of some assistance to those who seek the information found herein.

COMPILATION
of
WILLS and ESTATE SETTLEMENTS

People living in and around Williamsburg, Virginia, including James City County and York County from 1608 to the present century.

The purpose of this Index is to publish for the first time in one volume records available through research at the various courthouses and Archives of the Virginia State Library, Colonial Williamsburg Research Department, the College of William and Mary, together with references found in the Appendix. Also included in the Appendix are the York County listings (1632 to 1800) of Clayton Torrence, which is the most recent record of wills, published in 1930.

Some of the references will not lead directly to a will but to the settlement of an estate where there was no will involved; however, the names establish the fact that these individuals lived in the area or owned property which had to be settled upon their death, as required by law.

An important fact to remember will be the dates affixed to these wills and estate settlements. The following examples bring this to light:

example: EDWARD BROOKS--will, 1814, recorded 1815, estate settled 1823.

The reference in this book may read:

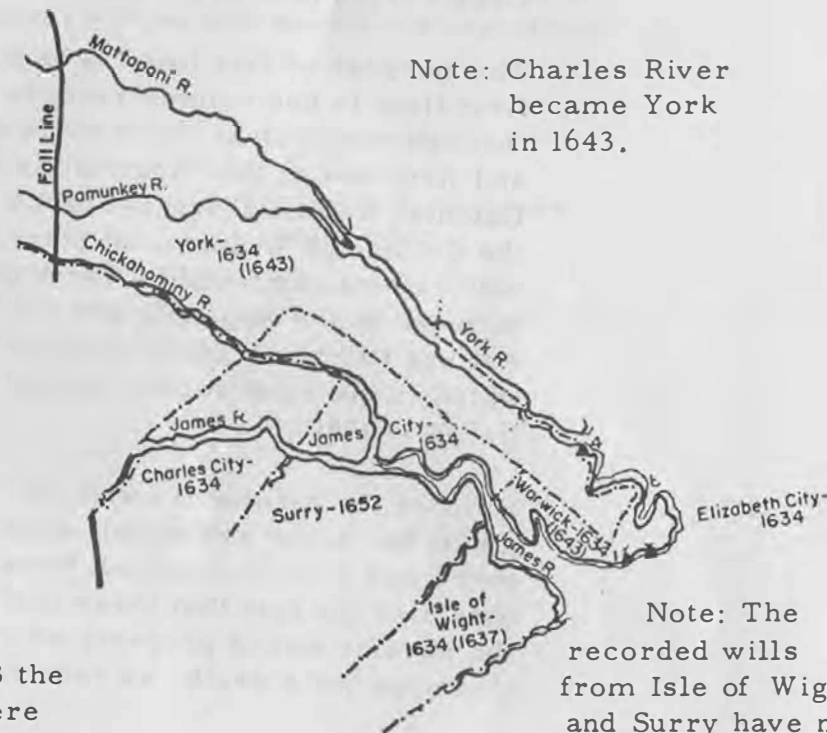

EDWARD BROOKS, will 1814
(YWB # 10 p 144)

Only the earliest date is used. See KEY TO COURTHOUSE RECORDS in Appendix for interpretation of YWB.

YORK COUNTY---Then and Now

In 1631 Captain Nicholas Martiau patented 1300 acres on the South bank of the YORK RIVER. This land was the parent of seven Virginia Counties. In 1634 this area was divided into the following counties:

Charles River
James City
Charles City
Elizabeth City
Warwick
Isle of Wight
York

Between 1651 and 1753 the following counties were formed from this original grant:

Gloucester, 1651 (From York)
New Kent, 1651 (From York)
Prince George, 1702 (From Charles City)
Southampton 1749 (From Isle of Wight)
Sussex, 1753 (From Surry)

Note: The recorded wills from Isle of Wight and Surry have not been destroyed, and are on microfilm at Virginia State Library, Richmond.

ESTABLISHING THE CITY OF WILLIAMSBURG IN COURTHOUSE RECORDS

Records pertaining to the City of Williamsburg may be found at the James City County Courthouse or the York County Courthouse. In Colonial times Williamsburg was part in York County and part in James City County. Although incorporated as a city with a Hustings Court (circuit) in 1722 deeds and wills of inhabitants of Williamsburg were recorded in York County Court or James City County Court, depending on which portion of the city they inhabited.

In 1715 the county seat was moved from Jamestown to Williamsburg and a courthouse was erected on the corner of England and Francis Streets. Williamsburg became incorporated and in 1722 they used the James City County Courthouse until 1745 when it moved its Hustings Court to the Play House. After the Capitol burned in 1747 the General Court of the Colony met in this building for a time until the Capitol was rebuilt.

In 1769 the justices of James City County and the mayor, recorder, aldermen and Common Council of the city of Williamsburg agreed to erect a new courthouse in Williamsburg for their common use at their joint expense. The justices of the James City County Courthouse were instructed to sell their old courthouse and jail for the best price it would bring. The New James City County - City of Williamsburg Courthouse was built on land annexed from York County.

The "1770 Courthouse" served as a barracks and hospital during the War between the States, and was later restored to use. In 1861 the records of James City County and the City of Williamsburg were taken to Richmond for safekeeping, but were burned in the evacuation of Richmond in April 1865. Court was held in the basement of the Baptist Church and between 1865 and 1867 at the home of Mrs. C.P. Waller.

In April 1911 the Courthouse burned. Most of the records were saved, and it was restored by local citizens of Williamsburg.

Interestingly, the York County records were preserved by a heroic clerk of court, Bolivar Shields. He did not follow orders to send the records to Richmond in 1862, and when he saw McClellan's army advancing, put all court records in his wagons and carried them to his plantation where they remained safely in his ice house !
